

Introduction:

The project Real Madrid Football Club fan page has been developed on HTML, CSS, JavaScript, PHP and MySQL.

This project created for football club fans in order to follow easily the club news and statistics.

There are two types of users available in project. First one is Fans that will see the front-end of the page.

Second one is Admin that will change the content of the page.

I have used HTML for structure and CSS for designing of the page, JavaScript for animations,

PHP for admin interaction with MySQL database.

Motivation:

Since this is my first Web Programming I want to create a page that will be easy but also challenging.
